Polygraph Services

-BY MATTHEW ROY

The New England Polygraph & Detective Agency works diligently to provide evidence-based, state-of-the-art polygraph examinations per the American Polygraph Association’s Ethical Guidelines and Testing Standards. We believe the work we produce consistently meets our objectives of excellence. We verify this claim through on-demand and random peer quality review of examination questions, data, and audio/video recordings. Our agency has a depth of knowledge and experience to provide you valuable information and results that can withstand scrutiny.

Our services are not a “one and done” encounter. We begin with in-depth communication with the client’s specific situation, and we suggest a tailored approach to the polygraph process. Next, we review relevant case information and clarify the most salient issues. Finally, we are available to conduct a pre-examination visit with you and your client to explain polygraph test procedures and address any possible concerns. We provide a formal written report within two business days following the examination and remain available for follow-up consultations.

Meet Our Examiners

- MARK TECENO

The New England Polygraph & Detective Agency is available to serve you in Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont, and Massachusetts. Meet Vanessa Khan and Matthew Roy, they are now serving Connecticut, Southwest Florida and New York as well.

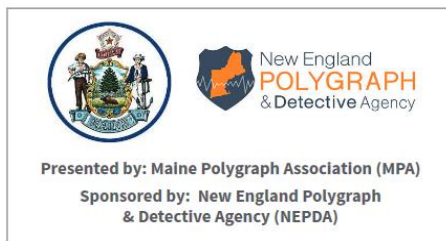

Vanessa Khan is a former United States Army Military Police Investigator and combat veteran of the Iraq war. She has 20 years of military police, criminal investigation, and public safety experience. She is a Licensed and Certified Forensic Polygraph Examiner who has provided polygraph services to police departments, sex offender management teams and attorneys. Vanessa brings a wealth of international experience to the art of interviewing. Vanessa graduated from the University of Connecticut with a bachelor's degree in Geoscience. She is a member in good standing with the American Polygraph Association.

Matthew Roy holds a master's degree in Counseling Psychology. He has seventeen years of clinical mental health counseling and forensic assessment evaluations. As a Certified Clinical Forensic Counselor, he designed, developed, and implemented specialized sexual offender risk assessment and treatment programs for adults and juveniles. He has provided these specialized sexual offender risk assessment and treatment services to community based; residential; and incarcerated offenders. Matt has completed specialized training and is experienced with interpretation of Abel Assessment for Sexual Interest; Psychopathy Checklist; Stable/Acute - 2007 Assessments. In 2014, Matt became a certified polygraph examiner; has received advanced training and certification in Post-Conviction Sexual Offender Testing; and is a licensed polygraph Examiner in Maine. He has professional memberships with the Maine and American Polygraph Association. He is a clinical member of the Association for the Treatment of Sexual Abusers and is an approved instructor for the American Polygraph Association.

Online Investigations

- VANESSA KHAN

NEPDA has joined forces with intelligence gathering experts who provide open-source investigative and intelligence services. Their research and analytical team is a mix of senior operations and intelligence specialists from the U.S. Special Operations Forces community, Central Intelligence Agency, Defense Intelligence Agency and Law Enforcement. They leverage years of experience in providing actionable targeting and analysis to operators and decision-makers on national security, counterterrorism and criminal matters to provide a wide variety of services to commercial clients. They have successfully adapted their skills to support major law firms, Fortune 500 companies and law enforcement agencies to address multiple problem sets including civil litigation, energy infrastructure and animal agriculture.

Their team uses software tools and research techniques to gather publicly available data, process information and create intelligence. Their researchers and investigators are adept at uncovering and capitalizing on the vast amount of publicly available online information and finding relevant connections for problem sets. They evaluate the information collected to identify critical elements, vulnerabilities, trends, themes, persons or entities of interest, patterns, connections, and other client specified criteria. Their findings are finalized in a report that is detailed, concise, solution-oriented and responsive to client requests. Their goal is to inform, advise at the strategic level, and enable clients to make informed decisions in a timely manner.

Call us, let us see what we can do for you.
